

8 March 2013

Dear Jeanne and Penny,

What a hoot. These kids were small in size, but huge in interest.

After taking a photo of Owen Camora's gloves with many finger covers, I moved over to the back gazebo and waited for the bus.

As Betty had taken photos of the bigger kids, I dropped my focus down and caught this group from their eye level.

One forgets what it is to see the birds from under the railing !

Hope you like my addition, These are just the cream off the top.

Betty Neupert was out there, too.

Good Birding,

Sara K.